

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how the Universal Service Fund is funded.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I am disabled and I use my wireless phone for safety and security. I don't want to lose these benefits, because I can no longer afford them, so that big businesses can pay less. Please reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Kathleen Wolford
